Average Energy Prices, Cleveland-Akron-Lorain – February 2015

Gasoline prices averaged $2.265 a gallon in the Cleveland-Akron-Lorain area in February 2015, the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics reported today. Regional Commissioner Charlene Peiffer noted that area gasoline prices were down $1.124 compared to February 2014 when they averaged $3.389 per gallon. Cleveland area households paid an average of 13.5 cents per kilowatt hour (kWh) of electricity in February 2015, 8.9 percent higher than the 12.4 cents per kWh paid in February 2014. Utility (piped) gas averaged 67.8 cents per therm in February, down from its average price of 81.3 cents per therm a year earlier. (Data in this release are not seasonally adjusted; accordingly, over-the-year-analysis is used throughout.)

At $2.265 a gallon, costs for gasoline in the Cleveland area were comparable to the national average of $2.308 in February 2015. With the exception of February 2012, when average gasoline costs in Cleveland were 4.7 percent lower than the national average, average gasoline costs have been comparable to the U.S. average during the past five Februarys (2011-2015). (See chart 1.)

The Consumer Price Index for March 2015 is scheduled to be released on Friday, April 17, 2015, at 8:30 a.m. (ET).

Technical Note

Average prices are estimated from Consumer Price Index (CPI) data for selected commodity series to support the research and analytic needs of CPI data users. Average prices for electricity, utility (piped) gas, and gasoline are published monthly for the U.S. city average, the 4 regions, the 3 population size classes, 10 region/size-class cross-classifications, and the 14 largest local index areas. For electricity, average prices per kilowatt-hour (kWh) are published. For utility (piped) gas, average prices per therm are published. For gasoline, the average price per gallon is published. Average prices for commonly available grades of gasoline are published as well as the average price across all grades.

All eligible prices are converted to a price per normalized quantity. These prices are then used to estimate a price for a defined fixed quantity. The average price per kilowatt-hour represents the total bill divided by the kilowatt-hour usage. The total bill is the sum of all items applicable to all consumers appearing on an electricity bill including, but not limited to, variable rates per kWh, fixed costs, taxes, surcharges, and credits. This calculation also applies to the average price per therm for utility (piped) gas.
